Microsoft 365 Copilot Value

What is Microsoft 365 Copilot?

Microsoft 365 Copilot is an AI assistant built into the Microsoft 365 productivity apps customers use every day—Word, Excel, PowerPoint, Outlook, Teams, and more. It combines advanced AI models with an organization’s permissioned Microsoft Graph work data (emails, files, chats, meetings, calendar, etc.) to deliver secure, context-aware help that speeds up work. Copilot runs within the customer’s Microsoft tenant and respects existing security and compliance controls, including sensitivity labels, Data Loss Prevention (DLP), identity, and governance policies.

How does Copilot work?

Microsoft 365 Copilot integrates three components:

- Microsoft 365 Apps: Provides in-context AI assistance across productivity tools.

- Microsoft Graph: Supplies secure, permissioned work content and signals.
- Advanced AI Models: Large language models deliver reasoning, drafting, summarization, analysis, and creative generation.

This combination produces real-time, work-grounded results while honoring organizational security and compliance.

What is Microsoft 365 Copilot Chat?

Microsoft 365 Copilot Chat is a secure AI chat experience available in the Microsoft 365 Copilot app (and Copilot in Outlook). It helps users draft and refine content, brainstorm, summarize, and get answers using web information (when enabled) and content the user provides in the chat.

Starting April 15, 2026, for customers with more than 2,000 paid seats on qualifying Microsoft 365 subscriptions, Copilot in Word, Excel, PowerPoint, and OneNote will no longer be available through Copilot Chat. For tenants with mixed seat types, only qualifying paid seats count toward the 2,000-seat threshold (trial, free, and other non-qualifying seats are excluded). Customers with 2,000 or fewer qualifying paid seats are not impacted by this change.

NOTE: Copilot Chat is subject to admin settings and standard service protections, and it may be temporarily limited during periods of high demand.

What's the difference between Microsoft 365 Copilot Chat, Microsoft 365 Copilot, and Microsoft 365 Copilot Business?

Microsoft 365 Copilot Chat is a secure AI chat experience available in the Microsoft 365 Copilot app (and Copilot in Outlook). It uses web information (when enabled) and content the user provides in the chat (for example, pasted text or uploaded files), but it does not automatically access an organization's Microsoft 365 work data through Microsoft Graph.

NOTE: Starting April 15, 2026, Copilot in Word, Excel, PowerPoint, and OneNote will no longer be available through Copilot Chat for customers with more than 2,000 paid seats on qualifying Microsoft 365 subscriptions.

Microsoft 365 Copilot (paid add-on) is the full, work-grounded Copilot experience built into Microsoft 365 apps like Word, Excel, PowerPoint, Outlook, and Teams. It can securely access and reason over Microsoft 365 work data through the user's permissioned Microsoft Graph to provide context-aware assistance to get work done more efficiently.

Microsoft 365 Copilot Business is the Microsoft 365 Copilot add-on specifically for small and medium businesses with fewer than 300 seats. It offers the same core in-app, work-grounded capabilities as Microsoft 365 Copilot, but is sold for eligible Microsoft 365 Business plans and packaged at a more affordable price point for SMB customers.

What can Microsoft 365 Copilot do that Copilot Chat cannot?

Microsoft 365 Copilot unlocks capabilities not available in Chat, including:

- In-app Copilot experiences in Word, Excel, PowerPoint, Outlook, and Teams
 - NOTE: Starting Apr 15, 2026, for tenants with >2,000 qualifying paid seats, Copilot in Word/Excel/PowerPoint/OneNote will be unavailable.
- Automatic internal org content (emails, files, meeting notes) referencing and reasoning
- Meeting recaps and screen-share insights in Teams
- Advanced data analysis (formulas, visualizations, Python in Excel)
- Narrative Builder and branded slides in PowerPoint
- Inbox triage and agenda creation in Outlook
- Work-grounded agent creation with full access to Microsoft Graph data

How does Microsoft 365 Copilot deliver higher business value than Copilot Chat?

Microsoft 365 Copilot provides permissioned work-grounded intelligence, meaning it understands a user's actual work context—content, collaborators, priorities—allowing it to automate and accelerate real workflows. Examples include summarizing Outlook inboxes, generating presentations from internal documents, forecasting from spreadsheets, and creating meeting recaps in Teams. Copilot Chat cannot access organizational data unless direct provided to the chat manually.

How does Microsoft 365 Copilot improve productivity compared to Chat alone?

Microsoft 365 Copilot reduces tool switching by delivering AI directly inside the apps where work happens. It automates high value, multistep tasks—like building a presentation from multiple internal files or analyzing large datasets—resulting in measurable productivity and time savings that Chat cannot achieve on its own.

How do I position Microsoft 365 Copilot vs Copilot Chat with customers?

Partners should position Microsoft 365 Copilot as the full, work-grounded AI assistant that expands the value of Microsoft 365. Copilot Chat is included at no additional cost with most Microsoft 365 subscriptions and can be used as an easy onramp to give users a secure AI baseline and build familiarity with basic capabilities.

NOTE: Starting April 15, 2026, Copilot in Word, Excel, PowerPoint, and OneNote will no longer be available through Copilot Chat for customers with more than 2,000 paid seats on qualifying Microsoft 365 subscriptions.

To level up, position Microsoft 365 Copilot as a full AI productivity suite that goes beyond Copilot Chat capabilities. Emphasize that Microsoft 365 Copilot is designed to drive ROI through automation, work-grounded intelligence, and secure integration with Microsoft 365 work data. Together, Copilot Chat and Microsoft 365 Copilot provide a scalable path—from initial exploration to organization-wide transformation.

How do data access and security differ between Microsoft 365 Copilot vs Copilot Chat?

Both Copilot Chat and Microsoft 365 Copilot include enterprise data protection. The key difference is data access:

- Copilot Chat → Web grounded (when enabled). Does not automatically access Microsoft 365 work data via Microsoft Graph unless the user provides content in the chat (for example, pasted text or uploaded files).
- Microsoft 365 Copilot → Work grounded. Can securely access and reason over Microsoft 365 work data (for example, SharePoint, OneDrive, Teams, Outlook, and Calendar) based on the user's permissions.

What additional administrative and analytics capabilities come with Microsoft 365 Copilot?

Microsoft 365 Copilot includes:

- Copilot Analytics, including adoption, usage, business impact
- Advanced management controls, including SharePoint Advanced Management
- Governance and compliance visibility and provides enterprise data protection with both Microsoft 365 Copilot and Copilot Chat, but Copilot Chat does not include analytics or app level governance.

What are the best value propositions to highlight when selling Microsoft 365 Copilot?

- Reduces time spent drafting and rewriting content
- Accelerates decisions by analyzing internal documents, data, and communications
- Eliminates manual work in Outlook and Teams
- Creates high quality presentations instantly
- Automates reporting, insights, and workflow steps
- Strengthens governance with unified analytics and admin controls

Can customers mix Copilot Chat and Microsoft 365 Copilot?

Yes. Many customers license Microsoft 365 Copilot for employees who need full AI productivity capabilities, while still using Copilot Chat to provide consistent, secure AI access across the broader workforce.

- Minimum Purchase: Customers must meet the minimum 300 seat requirement

At the end of the 3-year term, pricing reverts to the then-current standard Microsoft 365 Copilot pricing unless otherwise renewed under a new offer.

new How should partners handle Copilot promotions for enterprise customers following the May 6 eligibility changes?

Effective May 6, 2026, the Copilot for All promotion is now limited to Small and Medium Business (SMB) and Corporate customers only. Orders for enterprise customers transacting via CSP that were initiated prior to May 6, 2026 may still be honored, provided the customer meets all promotion eligibility requirements. There is no need for exception request in this situation and partners can proceed with the transaction without delay.

All eligibility validation should be confirmed via the ASPX in Partner Center. Partners should ensure all new deals align to the updated customer segmentation rules eligibility before transacting to avoid misaligned transactions and compliance risk.

What happens to my license at the end of the term?

At the end of the one-year promotional term, all licenses attached to the offer automatically revert to the current, standard Microsoft 365 Copilot pricing. If a customer accepts the offer mid-term with a commitment to renew it for another one-year term, the promo price will carry into the next full term—provided the renewal occurs during the promotional period outlined above.

How many times can my customer leverage these offers?

Eligible Small and Medium Businesses (SMB) and Corporate customers with a renewal during the promotional period can accept the offer mid-term to get promo pricing for the rest of their current term and, if they commit to an annual Microsoft 365 Copilot subscription, keep the same promo pricing for the next 12 months at renewal. This gives customers two chances to use the promo: now (for the remainder of the current term) and again at renewal (for an additional 12 months).

How do I know if my customer is eligible for these promotions?

Each offer has unique eligibility requirements outlined above. Before pitching the offer, please confirm your customer meets the individual eligibility requirements. Use the ASPX dashboard to validate customer segmentation.

Do the promos apply to my Microsoft 365 Copilot renewals?

The promos apply to both new and existing Microsoft 365 Copilot customers in Small and Medium Businesses (SMB) and Corporate customers at renewal. You can use a promo to renew existing Copilot licenses or to add new licenses, as long as the transaction meets the individual promotion's eligibility and (if applicable) coverage requirements and occurs within the promotional period.

What happens if an eligible customer needs more seats during the promotional period after they've already purchased?

After the Small and Medium Businesses (SMB) and Corporate customer meets the initial purchase requirement, they can add additional Copilot seats at any time during the promotional period as long as they meet the promo's eligibility requirements. All additional Copilot seats purchased during the promotion receive the same promotional pricing terms.

If I have an existing Microsoft 365 Copilot customer, can I add new licenses?

Yes. Existing Microsoft 365 Copilot customers in Small and Medium Businesses (SMB) and Corporate customers are eligible to add additional Copilot licenses at the discounted rate, provided they meet the promotional requirements and conduct the transaction during their existing term and within the promotional period.

UPDATED May 28 However, promotional pricing does not apply retroactively to existing licenses. If a customer has an existing Microsoft 365 Copilot subscription purchased without a promotion and later increases their total seat count (e.g., from 60 to 100 seats), the promotion cannot be applied to the original licenses. To receive promotional pricing, the additional licenses must be purchased as a new subscription that meets the promotion's eligibility requirements. When configured correctly, the promotion is applied to the new subscription only, not the existing one. Partners should structure expansions as new subscriptions to unlock promo eligibility and maximize attach opportunities.

new* How do promotions apply to existing subscriptions and additional seat purchases?

Promotions must be applied to at the time of purchase on a new subscription meeting eligibility requirements—not across total tenant seat count—and cannot be applied retroactively to existing licenses.

If a customer has an existing Microsoft 365 Copilot subscription without a promotion and later increases their seat count (for example, from 60 to 100 seats), they must create a new subscription for the additional licenses to qualify for promotional pricing. The promotion applies only to the new qualifying subscription, not the original licenses.

Partners should structure expansions as new subscriptions to unlock promotional pricing, ensure compliance, and maximize opportunity for additional services and upsell.

new* Can a promotion be applied retroactively once a customer's total seat count reaches the minimum threshold?

No. Promotions cannot be applied retroactively to existing Microsoft 365 Copilot licenses purchased without a discount. Even if a customer's total seat count reaches the eligibility threshold mid-term, only new subscriptions created after eligibility is met can receive promotional pricing.

new* If a customer increases seat count mid-term, how should partners structure the purchase to qualify for a promotion?

Partners must create a new subscription for the additional licenses. If the new subscription meets the promotion's requirements (e.g., total tenant seat count ≥ 100), the promotion can be applied to that new subscription. The existing subscription remains at its original pricing.

new* Why doesn't the Partner Center portal automatically apply the promotion when total seat count reaches the threshold?

This is expected behavior. Promotions are triggered based on eligible transactions, not total tenant seat count alone. To qualify, the promotion must be applied to a new subscription that meets the eligibility criteria at the time of purchase.

If a promotion is not applied, partners should validate that:

- A new subscription was created
- The eligibility criteria were met at the time of purchase

new* Can partners manually apply promotions if the system does not automatically apply the discount?

No. Promotions are not manually applied outside of standard purchase flows. If a promotion is not triggered, partners should confirm that a new subscription was created and that the transaction met the minimum seat and eligibility requirements at purchase.

Does the offer discount apply to localized pricing outside of US dollar?

Yes, the promotional discount is applied to the local list price in each market for Small and Medium Businesses (SMB) and Corporate customers.

If I am an enterprise customer, am I eligible for these promotions?

No. Effective May 6, 2026, the Copilot for All promotion is available only to Small and Medium Businesses (SMB) and Corporate customers purchasing Copilot licenses through the CSP new commerce platform. Customers must meet all stated eligibility requirements for the promotion.

Are Nonprofit, EDU, or Gov SKUs eligible for these promotions?

No. Nonprofit, EDU, and Gov SKUs are not eligible for these promotions.

Are Nonprofit, EDU, or Gov customers eligible for these promotions?

Yes. Nonprofit, EDU, and Gov customers are eligible for these commercial promotions. Important note: the promotions are NOT offered to the nonprofit, EDU, or Gov Microsoft 365 Copilot SKUs. Starting in December 2025 for EDU customers, Microsoft introduced an academic-specific offer for Microsoft 365 Copilot in education at $18 (USD) per user per month for educators, staff, and students ages 13 and older. Please refer to the Microsoft 365 Copilot EDU offer resources.

Purchase Channels & How to Buy

Which channel do I use to activate these promotions?

These promotions are available through the Cloud Solution Provider (CSP) new commerce platform only.

What are the Promotion IDs for these promotions?

- 1-year, 15% off Promotion ID: 39NFJQT25GPH
- 1-year, 20% off Promotion ID: 39NFJQT25HZN

- 1-year, 40% off Promotion ID: 39NFJQT13QLH
- 3-year, 15% off Promotion ID: 39NFJQT10ZN4 new

new* Will Partner Center be updated to automatically recognize and apply promotions based on total tenant seat count across multiple subscriptions?

Technical enforcement capability is currently limited in Partner Center. Today, transactions require promotions to be applied at the time of purchase on a qualifying new subscription and the partner is accountable to confirm eligibility before quotes and transactions. That said, the logic to recognize and apply promotions in Partner Center has been requested and is on the roadmap, but ETA has not yet been confirmed. In the meantime, the team is working on a short-term work around, which is currently in the engineering queue. Any future changes to Partner Center promotion logic or automation will be communicated through official Partner Center updates.

What are the available billing terms?

1-year offers are available with Annual/Annual and Annual/Monthly billing terms only. 3-year offer is available with triennial commitment and annual billing.

What geographies are the promotions available in?

The promotional discounts are available globally to qualifying customers.

How are channel incentives calculated with these Copilot promos?

Channel incentives for the promotions are calculated the same way as they are today for the existing Microsoft 365 Copilot $30 SKU.
